Autism does not discriminate by race or socioeconomic status. There are many neurodiverse students that aren't able to access our services because of their financial situation.

Islands of Brilliance is committed to providing an engaging and enriching educational experience to all students and families regardless of their ability to pay for programming. While program tuition does not reflect the true cost of educating each student, we take pride in pricing our workshops fairly to balance the value of the educational opportunities with accessibility for the communities we serve.

To help foster access, IOB has created the Brilliant Fund, a pool of dollars allocated annually to help make programming possible for participants requiring financial assistance. The Brilliant Fund is made possible by the generosity of individual donors, companies, and foundations who are committed to making IOB programming accessible to all who wish to participate, regardless of their ability to pay.

Every student deserves the chance to overcome obstacles and challenges of their autism diagnosis. The Brilliant Fund gives them a chance to let their talents and capabilities shine and an opportunity to meet their greatest potential.
